Ascension Day Services

Ascension Day is on Thursday and we have been given permission by the Bristol Diocese to celebrate it in church in a Covid safe way. There will be three services, led by Clair, throughout the day with two classes attending each service. One class will enter the church through the main door and sit near to the front of the church and the other class will enter from the door at the back of the church and sit at the back. During the service Clair will invite each class up for a blessing, they will kneel on the carpet on the stage rather than going up to the altar rail. All adults will wear a face masks in church and in between each service Clair will wipe down the pews and anything else that may have been touched.

The services do feel very significant; it is the first time in eighteen months that we've been able to take the children out of school. Unfortunately, we are not able to invite parents or members of the congregation to join us for the services this year but we hope that very soon we will be able to have services with the whole school and invite parents.

Short films to help children and young people manage their mental health

Bath and North East Somerset, Swindon and Wiltshire Clinical Commissioning Group has released a series of short films for families about how to have healthy conversations around mental health.

Released to coincide with this year's Mental Health Awareness Week, which begins on Monday 10 May, the films feature real-life stories from young people talking about how the services they've accessed have supported them and improved their quality of life. The films also contain tips and strategies from healthcare professionals about how to support young people's mental health at home. You can find out more about the campaign on the CCG website, and watch the films on their YouTube channel.
