

Willow class homework - English

Date - 19/5/23

In English, we are currently exploring the text 'The Tin Forest' by Helen Ward and Wayne Anderson, in which the main character, an old man, decides to do what he can to protect his environment.

Next week, we are going to be writing an information/persuasive piece about what we can do to protect our local environment.

For your homework, I would like you to do some preparation for this. Firstly, think of a local place that you think needs protecting or that you want to protect; eg a woodland, park, beach etc.

Draw a sketch and name the place you are thinking of.

Name of place.....

Then, in your homework book, make some NOTES (you don't need to use full sentences) under the following four headings about what you could do to help protect the place in your local environment that you are thinking of;

Rubbish, Plants, Looking after things, Wildlife

Challenge: Think of your own heading/s to make some notes under.
