

Roald Dahl homework - Guess the book title.

Due in: 20.9.23

It was Roald Dahl's birthday this week and to celebrate, our homework is going to be based around his immersive and exciting books! Read the descriptions/blurbs below and guess the book. You parents may be able to help as well!

Then write three of your own examples for your parents, guardians, siblings or even grandparents to try. These books do not need to be Roald Dahl books. Have fun solving!

Guess the Book Title

1. This book features a young boy who discovers a magical sweet that can make him fly. He visits a whimsical, high-flying destination with peculiar inhabitants. What's the book title?

Book Title: _____

2. In this story, a young girl possesses a special power - she can move things with her mind. She uses this power to stand up to her tyrannical headmistress and brings justice to her school. What's the book title?

Book Title: _____

3. This book is about a mischievous fox who outwits three farmers with the help of his friends, including a badger, a rabbit, and others. What's the book title?

Book Title: _____

4. A young boy with an extraordinary grandmother embarks on a journey to stop a group of witches who despise children. They have a plan to turn all children into mice! What's the book title?

Book Title: _____

5. This book tells the tale of a little girl named Sophie who befriends a big friendly giant (BFG). Together, they set out to stop the man-eating giants from causing harm to children. What's the book title?

Book Title: _____

6. In this book, a boy named James escapes his mean aunts by rolling away inside a giant peach. He embarks on a journey with newfound insect friends. What's the book title?